Mediators' Reply is Forwarded to Carranza.

AWAITING HIS ANSWER

Whether Constitutionalists Are to Participate in Negotiations for Peace Will be Determined by His Reply.

Washington, June 3.—Whether the Mexican Constitutionalists are to participate in peace negotiations at Niagara Falls probably will be determined by tomorrow. Agents of Gen. Carranza tonight were in telegraphic communication with the Constitutionalist leader, after having forwarded to him the answer of the South American mediators to his message of protest carried to Niagara Falls last week.

Publication of the mediators' message was withheld here until Gen. Carranza has determined on his reply. Rafael Zubaran, minister of the interior in Carranza's cabinet, would not discuss the nature of the mediators' proposals or the probable attitude of his chief. Persons in touch with Constitutionalist agents, however, suggested that the terms on which the mediators proposed to receive the Constitutionalists into the peace negotiations would be declined.

The mediators' note, addressed to Mr. Zubaran, reached Washington in a special delivery letter. As soon as the message was received, the Constitutionalist agency began preparations to communicate with Gen. Carranza at Durango by a special wire. When the message had been forwarded, conferences with their chieftain were begun over the wire, Mr. Zubaran announcing that he hoped to have some conclusive information later in the evening.

In that event it is probable there would be made public the mediators' message together with an answer, if there was to be any, and also the original note from the Constitutionalists.

It was said the mediators' message was accompanied by a request that nothing be made public until a conclusion had been reached.

Apprehensive Over Success.

Administration officials awaited the outcome with considerable anxiety. Throughout the day there were some expressions of apprehension in official quarters over the success of mediation plans as originally outlined. It was the first time that any admissions had been made of probable set backs. Yet those who admitted the possibility of obstacles insisted that all difficulties ultimately would be overcome. Secretary Bryan again reiterated that mediation was progressing satisfactorily.

At Constitutionalist headquarters those engaged personally in the long distance deliberations with Constitutionalist leaders flatly refused to say whether the communications contained a possibility of settlement of Mexican difficulties from the Constitutionalist point of view. One source, however, intimates that there were suggestions in the note that had not been forecast in previous dispatches from Niagara Falls.

While ammunition for the Constitutionalists was en route today to Tampico from the United States, admission came from the State Department of previously reported orders to customs officials not to clear consignments of munitions of war to Mexican ports. Secretary Bryan said there seemed to have been some misconstruction of the original order.

No Orders to Navy.

Assistant Secretary Roosevelt, acting as Secretary of the Navy in the absence of Secretary Daniels, said no orders had been given to the American naval commanders on the Mexico coast in regard to the treatment of the steamship Antilla, laden with war supplies for the Constitutionalists when she appears in Mexican waters. This was taken as an answer to the question as to whether the American naval commanders would extend protection to the Antilla in the event that some of the Huerta gunboats, which have been informed of the nature of her cargo, should attempt to waylay the ship.

The State Department has taken no action on the notification received today through American Consul Canada at Vera Cruz, that the Constitutionalists at Tampico would refuse entry to any vessel whose clearances were not issued by Constitutionalist consuls. It is believed the question will soon become a practical one by the appearance at Tampico of an American vessel demanding entrance under clearances issued by Huerta consuls in the United States. If such ships have sailed from home ports before receiving formal notice of this new demand it is said the State Department will insist on their right of entry.

Hobson Makes Bold Speech.

Newport News, Va., June 3.—That within three weeks after the seizure of Vera Cruz by the American forces two shiploads of arms for Huerta were landed in Mexico under convoy of foreign warships and tha t the United States government was "afraid to protest and afraid to allaw the press of the country to say anything about it," was the declaration of Congressman Richmond Pearson Hobson in an address delivered here tonight.

Mr. Hobson declared that a German steamer under the protection of a German warship, had landed a cargo of arms on the Altantic side, and that a Japanese steamer had landed a cargo on the Pacific under the convoy of a Japanese warship. Continuing, he said that the United States government office also knew the arms were landed but were afraid to make a protest and afraid to allow the press to publish the facts.

ALL IN READINESS FOR BIG CEREMONY

Unveil Confederate Monument in Arlington Today.

HONOR HEROIC DEAD

Commanders-in-Chief of The Confederate Veterans and The Grand Army of The Republic and Sculptor to Take Part

Washington, June 3.—Hundreds of old Southern warriors and many former Union soldiers arrived in Washington tonight to dedicate in Arlington Cemetery tomorrow afternoon the Confederate monument erected to the memory of the heroes of the South. Among the visitors were the commanders in chief of the United Confederate Veterans and the Grand Army of the Republic—Bennett H. Young of Louisville, and Washington Gardner, of Albion, Mich., and Sir Moses Ezekiel, sculptor of the monument.

Many of the visiting veterans were about the capital's streets tonight, finding friends among groups of former foes, or attended dinners arranged in honor of Northern and Southern leaders. From practically every Southern State came a group of grey clad veterans, and numerous Northern cities were represented by men in blue. Tonight they re-told the camp fire tales of half a century ago, and through it all ran the sentiment of fraternity that is to be sealed again tomorrow at the monument's unveiling in hallowed Arlington.

Pleasant weather was promised for the dedication ceremonies. These were to be featured by an address by President Wilson, who will acept the memorial in behalf of the United States after its presentation by Mrs. Daisy McLaurin Stevens, president geneer alof the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

Other speakers will include General Young and General Gardner, and Col. Hilary Herbert, Secretary of the Navy in the Cleveland administration. Officials of the cemetery had arranged tonight to handle the tremendous crowds expected to attend the unveiling.

Arrangements Complete.

Final arrangements for the unveiling tomorrow afternoon of the monument erected in Arlington National Cemetery in honor of the Confederate dead were completed today. President Wilson will deliver an address at the ceremonies and many other high government officials, including several members of the Cabinet, expect to attend.

The executive commitee of the Arlington Confederate Monument Association of which Colonel Hilary A. Herbert is chairman has decided to place a large floral wreath on the stone which marks the graves of more than 1,000 unknown union dead in the cemetery immediately after the unveiling ceremonies.

Gen. George W. Gardner, of Albion, Mich., commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic; General Bennett H. Young, of Louisville, commander of the United Confederate Veterans and Sir Moses Ezekiel, the scuptor, will participate in the unveiling ceremonies.

The monument, which is of bronze, has its central figure the heroic statue of a woman, facing southward and bearing in an extended hand a laurel wreath. About the base are thirty-two life size figures in full relief, representing the heroic sacrifices of the men and women of the confederacy.

Erection of the monument was made possible through efforts of the United Daughters of the Confederacy. Col. Herbert formally will present the memorial to Mrs. Daisy McLaurin Stevens, president-general of the United Daughters, who in an address will in turn present it to the Government. President Wilson will make the address of acceptance.

The South as She Is.

Sir Moses Ezekiel who arived here today, explained that in modelling the memorial he had sought to portray the South rising supreme above her sacrifices and privations.

"The intention is that it is a peace monument," he said "Without forgetting the sacrifices and the heroism of the South, and emphasizing the fact that we were fighting for a constitutional right, and not to uphold slavery, I have attempted to have the dominant idea the future and not the past, that the intention of the South is to rest the future on her industrial and her agriculture and to let the past go but not be forgotten.

"With this idea, the large figure at the top represents the South, one hand holding a wreath for the past, but with the right hand resting on the handles of a plow. The smaller figures below represent the sacrifices, the devotion, the heroism of all classes of the South in upholding and fighting for what they passionately believed to be the right."

Stylishly Dressed Suffragist Injures Attendant.

Serious Damage Done to Guard Over Famous Pictures When He Attempted to Prevent Their Destruction.

London, June 3.—A savage attack with a hatchet was made today by a young and stylishly gowned suffragist on an attendant at the Dore Gallery, who tried to prevent her from destroying valuable pictures on exhibition there.

The woman had already ruined two paintings in the gallery, which is in the heart of the fashionable quarter of London and was hacking a third when an attendant named Bourlet seized her arm.

The vandal turned on the man furiously and rained a shower of blows on his body, severely injuring him.

Other attendants overpowered her. She kicked, struggled and screamed until she was turned over to the police.

A letter left in the gallery by the vandal, asserted militants heretofore have been too 'lady-like."

"To stop this you must give us justice," the letter says. "We are willing to die for it before we give in. We have tried all other ways. We have been too lady-like in the past. Now we are going to fight and you

YACHT RESOLUTE WON SECOND TRIAL RACE

Turned Tables on Cochran's Vanitie Yesterday.

Contest to Select Defender for American Cup Against Sir Thomas Lipton's Challenger, Shamrock IV, Next September.

Rye, N. Y., June 3.—Sailing under almost perfect weather conditions, the Herreshoff-designed yacht Resolute defeated Alexander S. Cochran's Vanitie off here today, in the second trial race for 75-foot sloops, candidates for America's cup defender in the races set for September against Sir Thomas Lipton's challenger, Shamrock IV.

The Resolute's victory came after a twenty-five and one-half mile race on Long Island Sound by eleven seconds. On estimated corrected time, adding the Resolute time-allowance, this was increased to three minutes twelve seconds.

Yachtsmen were satisfied at having seen the two cup defense aspirants competing under far more favorable conditions than those prevailing in yesterday's initial contest when the Vanitie won by a big margin. These nautical experts felt that tonight they had a better line on the ability of the two sloops than could be formed from Tuesday's race.

Such conclusions as were reached after today's test, are at best but tentative ones, for the race, a beat to windward, proved little beyond the fact that the Resolute is a trifle faster in moderate airs. The Vanitie's sails are not setting satisfactorily, and although in a run off wind she appeared

MEDIATORS WAIT ON GEN. CARRANZA

On Reply From Rebel Chief Depends Their Success.

HOPEFULLY CONFIDENT

South American Diplomats Believe Favorable Answer is Forthcoming from Constitutionalist Leader—Mediation.

Niagara Falls, Ont., June 3.—Mediation tonight waits on Gen. Carranza. The commander-in-chief of the Constitutionalist forces in Mexico has in his possession a communication from the three South American diplomats which opened the doors for Constitutionalist representation in conference here. Upon his word depends whether the entire Mexican problem will be settled by diplomacy or whether the Constitutionalists will continue to fight their way to Mexico City.

The mediators have smoothed the way for the Constitutionalists to participate. The United States government wants them to accept. A rejection may eventually mean the Washington government's withdrawal of the moral support it has been extending to their cause.

The mediators tonight were hopefully confident Gen. Carranza would send envoys here. Instead of believing negotiations will be indefinitely prolonged by such a course they think a pacific settlement would in reality be more quickly obtained as all parties in the Mexican dispute then would be here to shape the program of peace.

There were no conferences today with either the Mexicans or American delegates. It may be stated that there will be no obstacles placed in the way of Gen. Carranza's participation by the Huerta delegates or other principals.

Look for Favorable Reply.

Just what was contained in the mediators' note to Gen. Carranza transmitted today by Rafael Zubaran at Washington, was not revealed here. The mediators said that out of courtesy to Carranza the document would not be made public here. There is a general confidence that the answer will be favorable.

The mediators have not literally invited the Constitutionalists anew but the phraseology of the note is said to be such as to pave the way for their entrance into the negotiations. It clarifies misunderstandings that have existed.

The American delegates suggested no specific agrarian plan nor do they intend to do so. What the American government and the mediators desire is that the new provisional government shall be morally obligated to dispose of the land question with justice to all interests.

It is known the mediators want the Constitutionalists to come into the conference so that the solution by peaceful methods may be a historic example to Pan-America of the way revolutions can be ended in countries of this hemisphere. But if the Constitutionalists refuse to enter, mediation will proceed.

An agreement will be reached between the United States and the Huerta administration through which a new government will be set up. The international conflict will have been solved and the probability is that Argentine, Brazil and Chile will accord recognition and moral support to the new provisional government. The United States would be expected to do likewise.

RATE ASSOCIATION IN SESSION IN RALEIGH

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., June 3.—President Fred N. Tate, and 11 others of the leaders among the North Carolina Just Freight Rate Association met here today, in response to a general call for the members of the association, and determined that the association shall continue and set on foot plans that are expected to work out a thorough reorganization of the association and give to the business men of the State an organization that will give service in procurement of rate equities and representation in any general effort for betterment of freight rate conditions.

President Tate reconsidered his declared purpose to retire from the presidency and all officers were re-elected except Treasurer Alf A. Thompson, of Raleigh, who resigned because he had been appointed on the special Intra-State Freight Rate Commission by the Governor.

The meeting named Dr. H. Q. Alexander, of Mecklenburg; G. J. Ball, Raleigh, and W. S. Creighton, Charlotte, as a special committee to go before the platform committee of the Demo-

COMMISSION RENEWS NEW HAVEN INQUIRY

Two of Roads Directors Testify at Hearing

Inter-State Commerce Commission Going Thoroughly Into Financial Matters of Road During Mellen's Supervision.

Washington, June 3.—James E. Elton, of Waterbury, Conn., and William Skinner, of Holyoke, Mass., directors of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad, testifying today before the Inter-State Commerce Commission at its investigation into the affairs of the road, said the acquisition of various New England trolleys, steamship lines and other properties at a cost of many millions of dollars, constituted a part of the New Haven's comprehensive plan to increase its facilities.

Many properties thus acquired, it was stated, only had a prospective value, the natural growth of New England being taken into consideration by the directors. Mr. Elton questioned on this point by William Nelson Cromwell, who appeared as counsel for several directors, declared the purchase for $11,000,000 of the New York, West Chester & Boston road, the stock of which former President Mellen, of the New Haven testified was worth only "10 cents a pound," was for the purpose of obtaining a foothold in the Metropolitan district and obtaining great terminal facilities in New York.

Mr. Elton testified that the New Haven directors had changed their

COMMENCEMENT AT UNIVERSITY IS OVER

Secretary Redfield and Governor Craig Speak.

105 RECEIVE DEGREES

Honorary Degree of L.L. D. Conferred Upon Secretaries Daniels and Redfield and Associate Justice W. R. Allen—Finals.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Chapel Hill, N. C., June 3.—The 119th annual commencement of the University of North Carolina was brought to a most successful close today, when Secretary of Commerce William C. Redfield delivered the final address before an audience of over 2,000, after which honors were awarded and degrees conferred on graduates and post graduates.

The line of march, consisting of the senior class, the speakers, including President Edward K. Graham, Governor Locke Craig, Secretary of the Navy Daniels, Secretary Redfield, the faculty, the trustees, the classes of '64, '89, '94, '04, '09 and '13, respectively, formed at the Alumni building at 10:30 A. M., and marched to Memorial hall, where the formal exercises were carried out in fine style.

The programme in brief was the address by the Honorable William C. Redfield, announcements by President E. K. Graham, the awarding of medals, prizes and fellowships; an address to the graduating class by his excellency, Gov. Locke Craig; the conferring of the degree of bachelor of arts; the conferring of degrees of bachelor of science, bachelor of laws, graduate in pharmacy, master of arts, master of science, and doctor of philosophy. The three receiving Ph. D. degree were James T. Dobbins, G. K. G. Henry and H. M. Starr. After the conferring of degrees in course, the honorary degree of L.L. D. was conferred on Judge W. R. Allen, Secretary Daniels, and Secretary Redfield.

An ovation, which lasted three minutes, was manifested when Governor Craig arose and announced the election of E. K. Graham as president of the University. Every one rose to their feet in joyous acclamation, a manifestation of the spirit of the campus and State.

In the audience sat 105 candidates for degrees, two members of the cabinet, the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, and the Governor of North Carolina. Senator Simmons, who was to be the recipient of the L.L. D. degree, sent his regrets to the faculty and trustees in the perosn of his secretary, Capt. S. A. Ashe.

Secretary Redfield's Address.

Secretary Redfield, illustrating by the training of the athlete for a strenuous race the training of the student in college as to his mind, said that the graduates have now come to the beginning of the course. The question has been asked: "Are you ready?" and, he declared, "You await the word go!" He declared that "We have a right to expect from you the results from trained minds. We assume that you can think, and think straight and think far; that you have been so developed in mind as to discern and put aside the superficial forms of thought and grasp and utilize realities."

He said there are two broadly defined types of thought, one being long distance, and the other local thinking. One is profound and the other is superficial. Between these two phases of thought there is what an editor calls "the inevitable conflict of view that springs up between principle and expediency, between idealism and realism." Everywhere in life these two methods of thinking are discovered, one criticising the half done job, the other looking toward the completed ideal. Types of such thinkers are found in every community everywhere."

The speaker said there never was a time when men were more needed in business and public life who could discern afar the path of truth, and could with open mind and without prejudice walk therein now. Our public atmosphere is full of the yelps and howls of the little thinkers. The large is lost in the to-do raised about the little, and the incidental is exaggerated into the important.

Secretary Redfield then entered on a lengthy discussion of several public problems of today, and illustrated by them the two methods of thinking.

Referring to the legislation, to policies at home and abroad, he drew from each illustration, which both showed the danger of the narrow view and the necessity of looking at things in the large.

Secretary Redfield brought the thought home to his audience when he applied it indirectly, of course, to the foreign policy of the United States, particularly with Mexico, without, however, mentioning any names. In following such a policy he urged the country to look for the big end in view and he said that it was not the genius of America to force her will anywhere by power of arms.

"We must look at the supreme object of our purpose," he said, "respecting such to the opening of the way to self-respecting opportunities for all her people; to the development of such ideals and methods among them as shall lead to a true national life; to helping them with kindly hand toward real self-government in a land whose law shall be the people's will."

HOOD NOMINATED THOMAS APPEALS

Result in Third District Convention at Goldsboro

DISCUSSION IS STORMY

Former Congressman Insists That Proper Count of Ballots Cast in Primary Would Give Him the Nomination.

(By Long Distance Telephone.)

Goldsboro, N. C., June 3.—The Third Congressional District convention, in session here this afternoon, after a stormy discussion, finally nominated Hon. George E. Hood, of Wayne, for Congress. This was without regard to the primary vote and from the nomination Hon. Chas. R. Thomas, of Craven, took an appeal to the Democratic State Executive Committee, the result of which, of course, cannot be forecasted as yet.

The convention was called to order at 2 P. M., by Chairman W. L. Hill, of the District Executive Committee. A. D. Ward, of Craven, was then named as temporary chairman, and J. L. Barham secretary, with several assistants. On motion the temporary organization was made permanent. All formalities, such as the appointment of committees, platform, etc., were dispensed with and immediately Col. Geo. L. Peterson, of Sampson, offered a resolution declaring no nomination in the recent preferential primary and proposing to proceed at once to nominate in convention. Zeke Henderson, an attorney of Newbern, offered a substitute for the Peterson resolution to appoint a committee of nine—one from each county in the district—to count the ballots as cast in the primary, allowing the second choices, etc., and giving the candidate who received a majority on the last count the nomination.

Rodolph Duffy, Esq., of Onslow, at once took the platform for the substitute and delivered one of the finest speeches, political or otherwise, his friends have ever heard him make. For the count of the primary ballots also spoke Henderson, of Craven; J. L. Barham, Col. A. C. Davis, while those against the substitute were Fitzhugh Whitfield, of Sampson; Frank Thompson, of Onslow; Gibbs, of Pamlico; Webb, of Carteret, and Peterson, of Sampson, all of which was a strong argument of able men in behalf of the preferential primary. The chief fight was between Duffy and Thompson, the war horses of Onslow. The debate lasted about two hours and the substitute was carried by the exceedingly close vote of 118.18 to 118.20.

Then for nearly an hour there was the utmost confusion in an effort to get a reconsideration of the vote, the scenes being almost a counterpart of the famous Sixth district convention at Wrightsville Beach a few years ago. After each county had been directed to name the committee to make the count of the ballots in the primary, the lower candidates began to withdraw one by one in favor of Hood until all had withdrawn except Thomas, who insisted that the count be carried on under the resolution.

The convention then voted to reconsider the substitute and passed a motion to nominate by convention, the strength of all the candidates except Thomas going to Hood, he being declared the nominee about 7 o'clock this evening.

Thomas filed a protest against the nomination and appealed to the State Executive Committee, insisting that a proper count of the ballots in the primary would give him the nomination and the convention had no right to repudiate the primary.

There was a big attendance at the convention and each county was fully represented. Considerable bitterness was shown, especially between the supporters of Guion and Thomas from the Craven county section of the district.

Marked by Fist Fights.

(By Associated Press.)

Goldsboro, N. C., June 3.—In a stormy convention here today, marked by fist fights of delegates and activities of police officers, the Democrats of the Third North Carolina Congressional District, by a vote of 204 to 31, nominated George E. Hood, of Wayne county, to succeed Representative John M. Faison. Charles R. Thomas, of Craven, Hood's leading opponent, protests Hood's nomination, claiming that it disregarded the preferential primary which was at first resorted to to effect a nomination. Thomas claims all the votes of the preferential primary have never been counted, but are locked up in a bank vault in Goldsboro.

PROGRESSIVE MEASURES MAY MEET OPPOSITION.

In Democratic State Convention in Raleigh Today.

Raleigh, N. C., June 3.—Without any contest, Lee S. Overman will be re-nominated for the United States Senate and Edward L. Traxis for member of the North Carolina Corporation Commission at the State Democratic Convention, which meets here at noon tomorrow. Beyond this the nomination of seven Superior court judges, already made, will be confirmed.

The only matter in doubt is as to the platform. An effort will be made to have a State-wide legalized primary and other progressive measures endorsed, and the outlook is for some opposition to these. Friends of progressive measures express their confidence in putting through these measures as a demand in the platform.

N. J. Rouse, of Kinston, will be temporary chairman and will make the keynote speech.

JUDGE FOELL UPHOLDS CINCINNATI NATIONALS

Injunction in "Chief" Johnson Case Made Permanent.

Every Countention of Cincinnati Club Upheld in Judge's Ruling Making Injunction Permanent—Feds to Appeal.

Chicago, June 3.—First blood in the battle over "Chief" Johnson—a battle that promises to reach its final decision only in the highest courts, was scored by organized baseball today when Judge Foelt, upholding every contention of the Cincinnati National League Club, made permanent the injunction which prevented the pitcher from playing with the Federal League.

It was generaly reported that a wholesale desertion of players in organized baseball to the independents would follow a decision favoring the Federals.

The Federals represented by the Kansas City Club, for which Johnson deserted the Cincinnati team, took immediate steps for an appeal and announced that the pitcher would play in all Federal League towns except Chicago despite the injunction which is effective only in Illinois.

August Herrman, Cincinnati president, declared suits would be filed in every other Federal League city to prevent Johnson's playing and counsel for the Cincinnati Club said civil damage suits against the pitcher and against the Kansas City Club for sums aggregating $30,000 would be vigorously prosecuted."

A secret meeting of Federal League Club owners was in progress here late today.

"Jumpers" Holted.

Chicago, June 3.—Judge Foell, in the Superior court of Cook county today sustained the injunction restraining "Chief" Johnson from pitching for any team except the Cincinnati Nationals and by his decision stopped what threatened to be the most extensive raid on organized baseball ever made. Scores of players including a dozen or more stars, were ready to "jump" to the outlaw league at the word that Johnson's case had been decided in favor of the Kansas City Federals whom he joined after deserting Cincinnati.

Contracts, it is said, had already signed depending only on the contingency that the pitcher's "jump" would be held legal.

The injunction of course, restrained Johnson from playing only within the state of Illinois, but while he could have pitched in games outside the state, the Kansas City Club declined to let him, rather than take the chance of prejudicing his case.

The Cincinnati obtained the temporary injunction on April 23rd. Johnson had taken part in no contests since.

The Kansas City Club prayed for dissolution of the injunction, arguing among other contentions that the contract Johnson signed with Cincinnati was invalid because of the "ten day clause" and that a "negative convenant" forcing a player to preform only for the team with which he had a contract, cannot be enforced in law.

Judge Foell at the request of the Federal League granted an appeal and twenty days for filling the certificate of evidence.

RECORDER IMPOSES BIG FINE

Mr. J. J. Loughlin Is Found Guilty of Removing House at Carolina Beach—Appeals.

Mr. J. J. Loughlin, charged with demolishing a house at Carolina Beach, which it is claimed was on the lands of Messrs G. H. and M. A. Currie, was yesterday found guilty of the charge by Recorder John J. Furlong and fined $200. Judgment was suspended upon payment of the costs in the case against Mr. T. H. Nelson, who was working under the direction of Mr. Loughlin. Only one witness was examined yesterday by the State, this being Deputy Sheriff Reynolds. The defendants did not offer any testimony.

Notice of appeal was filed by the defense and the matter will likely be threshed out in Superior court. In the meantime, the title to the tract of land near Carolina Beach, which consists of about 300 acres, is still in dispute between the Messrs. Currie and the New Hanover Transit Company.

An injunction was secured by Mr. Loughlin and associates several weeks ago restraining the Messrs. Currie from entering upon the land. In connection with the injunction suit was started in Superior Court for $10,000 alleged damages because of the claim of the plaintiff that the title to their lands had been brought under a cloud. The time set for a hearing in this matter is June 19th.

The defendants in the case yesterday did not offer any testimony, but contended that the house which was removed was on the lands of the New Hanover Transit Company and that Mr. Loughlin being an officer of the company had a right to do what he pleased with the property located on it.

Only one witness was examined by the State yesterday, this being Deputy Sheriff Reynolds, who gave an account of what he saw and found when he went to Carolina Beach with a search warrant.

COMMISSIONER GRAHAM MAKES ANNUAL REPORT

To State Board of Agriculture in Session.

Crop Yields Last Year Largest in History—Urges $15,000 Appropriation for Exhibit at Panama-Pacific Exposition.

(Special Star Correspondence)

Raleigh, N. C., June 3.—The principal feature of the opening session of the semi-annual meeting of the State Board of Agriculture here today was the hearing of the report of Commissioner of Agriculture W. A. Graham on the work of the department for the past year and progress of the State in matters agricultural. The State board will, during this session, review the work of the past six months, map out the work for the next six months and set aside the budget for the work of the department which will be around $125,000 for the ensuing semi-annual period.

Largest Crops in History.

In his report Commissioner Graham called to the attention of the board with special gratification the fact that the 1913 crop yields were the largest in the history of the State, exceeding by several million dollars in value tae crops of any previous year. He directed attention, too, to the fact that the tax valuation of farm lands in the State have climbed to $231,000,000. The value of the farm products the past year, including farm live stock, exceeded $260,000.00.

Every Division Effecient.

Treating the progress of the work of the Department of Agriculture, Commissioner Graham stated that every division has rendered effective service. Financially the department had a balance of $10,000 December 1, last, and the receipts for the six months to June 1 have been $202,217, there being June 1, a balance in the treasury of $84,125. Of the six months receipts $158,457 was for fertilizer taxes, $16,237 for cotton seed meal tax; $13,973 for feed stamps and the remainder from less important tax and license sources.

There was a recommendation by the commissioner that the soil survey and soil investigation division be made an independent division of the department with the head of the division reporting to the Commissioner of Agriculture direct as the heads of the other divisions of the Department of Agriculture. This work is being done in co-operation with the United States Department of Agriculture and the commissioner stated that the Federal department was thoroughly agreeable to the idea of setting this work aside as a special division as he recommended.

Panama-Pacific Exposition.

Referring to the Panama-Pacific Exposition, the commissioner recomended that the State board set aside the sum of $15,000 for a creditable agricultural representation of the State in the exposition next year. He explained that this exhibit would be installed in co-operation with the other interests in the State that join in arrangements for North Carolina exploitation at the exporition. He recommended that the board send H. H. Brimley to San Francisco June 25th with Governor Craig's party to aid in the selection of a site for the North Carolina building, the general agreement being that the exhibits should be concentrated in a special and creditable building. He recommends that the board continue its aid and encouragement for the local county and district fairs and the State Fair at Raleigh.

He congratulated the board and the people of the State on the fact that North Carolina has well established her claim to the production of more sweet potatoes, peanuts, and cotton to the acre than any other State and has taken three times the highest premiums on apples.

Not to Furnish Lime.

The commiesioner reports that it is found inexpedient for the State board to undertake to furnish agricultural lime to the farmers of the State at cost, since the commercial companies are providing the lime now at figures that the board could scarcely less than duplicate.

The Conning Bulletin.

The commissioner asks that the board authorize the publication of another edition of fifty thousand copies of the department's canning bulletin, which has proved a most valuable factor in the encouragement of this most valuable industry for the farmers and home generally. The last edition is about exhausted, copies having been sent into every part of the world, the commissioner says, through requests being made for copies.

The commissioner notes the fact the agronomist is preparing a special bulletin on the kinds and amounts of feeds and foods imported in the State the past year, this to show most enlightening data as to the volume of this draft on other sections of the country, much of it for supplies that should be raised at home.

KINSTON MILL FOREMAN PROBABLY FATALLY CUT.

By 17-Year-Old Elvin Sparrow, Who is in Jail.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Kinston, N. C., June 3.—H. W. Hursey, a foreman, was assaulted and seriously cut with a pocket knife by 17-year-old Elvin Sparrow at the Kinston Cotton Mills, in East Kinston, last night. Hursey's condition today is said to be critical. A gaping wound six inches long is in his throat, and another of similar length in one arm. His wife and two small children in Durham, have not been notified, in accordance with his request.

Sparrow was an employe in the mills. He is being held in the county jail without bond. He made a statement today in which he said he had been drinking and was idle during the evening. He went to the mills and while walking through them was halted by a girl. He was in conversation with her when Hursey, who had been in the mills but two days, ordered him out of his department, the carding rooms. Sparrow alleged Hursey applied a vile epithet to him, and he then attacked him.

Sparrow is a slight, red-headed boy, wearing knee trousers. He shows no nervousness and did not ask about his victim's condition. He went to his home and ate a hearty meal before the officers came for him.

NAVIGATION AND PILOTAGE

Official Report of Proceedings of Board of Commissioners at Regular Meeting Held Yesterday.

Wilmington, June 3, 1914.

Regular monthly meeting of the Board of Commissioners of Navigation and Pilotage was held today at the office of the chairman, with the following present: Chairman James Sprunt, Vice Chairman J. W. Harper, and Commissioners H. G. Smallbones, William St. George and J. J. Loughlin.

Reading of the minutes of the last meeting was dispensed with, they having been published in the newspapers at the time and read by the Commissioners.

Report of the monthly bar soundings committee was read and approved.

Pilot I. S. Davis not having complied with the requirements and regulations in reference to the use of the pilot boat "Lilese," No. 5, was given notice that the license had been revoked.

The following correspondence with reference to shoaling at Reeves Point Cut was read and approved:

May 4, 1914.

Major H. W. Stickle, Corps of Engineers, U. S. A., Wilmington, N. C.

Dear Sir:—At the meeting of the Board held today it was reported that the dumping of mud, etc., from the dredges has caused shoaling on the dumping ground beyond the bar, and, at one point in particular, about a mile W.N.W. from the Bell Buoy, the water is said to have shoaled to a depth of about 16 feet, which is considered dangerous to navigation, and it has been suggested that it might be well to mark this shoal with a buoy.

I was instructed to enquire if you have heard of such shoaling, and if the shoaling does exist, to ask your opinion as to the best method of overcoming this danger to navigation.

Respectfully,
L. BROWN McKOY, Clerk.

May 11, 1914.

Mr. L. Brown McKoy, Clerk, Board of Commissioners of Navigation and Pilotage, Wilmington, N. C.

Dear Sir:—In reply to your letter of May 4, 1914, I beg to inform you that I am fully advised that there is shoaling on the dumping ground beyond the bar, and I suspect the depth at places is considerable less than 16 feet. I do not think this is any danger to navigation and I do not understand how anyone could so construe it. The marking of this shoal with a buoy seems to me to be entirely unnecessary.

Very truly yours,
H. W. STICKLE,
Major, Corps of Engineers, U. S. A.

Southport, N. C., May 5, 1914.

Mr. James Sprunt, Chairman, Wilmington, N. C.

Dear Sir:—I beg to report that on Monday the 4th inst., I piloted the steamer Bergenhus up the river to Wilmington, and while going over Reeves Point Cut the ship dragged heavily on the bottom. Tide had risen two feet or more, and the ship was drawing 23 1-2 feet.

Recently the newspapers reported that the engineers had removed the shoal in this cut, but such is not the case and I respectfully request that you will take the matter up with the engineer in charge of this district to the end that work may be done to remove the shoal.

Very respectfully,
L. J. PEPPER.

May 19, 1914.

Major H. W. Stickle, Corps of Engineers, U. S. A., Wilmington, N. C.

Dear Sir:—On my return to the office after an absence of several days I find the enclosed letter from Pilot L. J. Pepper which is referred to you in case the matter has not already been called to your attention.

Respectfully,
JAMES SPRUNT, Chairman.

May 22, 1914.

Mr. James Sprunt, Chairman, Board of Commissioners of Navigation and Pilotage, Wilmington, N. C.

Dear Sir:—I acknowledge receipt of your letter of May 19th, forwarding report of Mr. L. J. Pepper that, on May 4th, the steamer Bergenhus, drawing 23 1-2 feet, dragged heavily on the bottom while going over Reeves Point Cut. You brought this matter to my attention by telephone on May 7th. The dredge "Henry Bacan" had already started work on that channel, and will continue there until the channel depth and width has been secured, except when she is laid up for repairs, as she is for the present for a few days. The letter of Mr. Pepper is returned herewith.

Very respectfully,
H. W. STICKLE,
Major, Corps of Engineers, U. S. A.

After some discussion the Board requested the Chairman to address the following letter to Major Stickle:

June 3, 1914.

Major H. W. Stickle, Corps of Engineers, U. S. A., Wilmington, N. C.

Dear Sir:—At a meeting of the Board of Commissioners of Navigation and Pilotage held today, our correspondence of May 11th and May 26th was read, and I was requested to say with particular reference to your favor of May 11th and with due deference to your judgment in the matter, that Pilot St. George again reports that the shoal on the dumping ground beyond the bar in smoky weather is dangerous to navigation inasmuch as the approach in thick weather is not marked by any safety device or aid to navigation.

Furthermore, the coast charts show in this particular place a depth of four to five fathoms, when as a matter of fact the depth is only about sixteen feet.

The pilots have reported that a ship has already struck this lump in trying to enter the port, and in view of these circumstances we respectfully ask for your re-consideration.

If you approve of the measure this Board will request the Lighthouse Board to make due notice of this obstruction.

Very respectfully,
JAMES SPRUNT, Chairman.

The following correspondence was read and approved:

Wilmington, N. C., May 25, 1914.

Mr. James Sprunt, Chairman, Pilotage and Navigation.

Dear Sir:—On account of losing my boat "Virginia Dare" it will be necessary for me to use my pilot boat "Capt. Cahill," and you can cancel her license as a pilot boat until I finish a contract that I made.

Yours truly,
JOHN S. SELLERS.

May 25, 1914.

Pilot J. S. Sellers, 519 South Front Street, Wilmington, N. C.

Dear Sir:—I am instructed by the Chairman to state that he has today received your letter of May 25th, requesting that your license for the pilot boat "Captain Cahill" be cancelled; and you are hereby advised that the said license has accordingly been cancelled this day on our official records.

Respectfully,
L. BROWN McKOY, Clerk.

The Commissioners being mindful of the long and faithful service of their former colleague, Pilot J. W. Craig, and desiring him to know that his record as an excellent pilot, a good citizen, and a Christian minister, is held by them in grateful remembrance, have ordered that this expression of their sympathy for him in his long illness, and their sincere wishes for his restoration to health be officially conveyed to him by the Chairman of the Board.

There being no further business, the meeting adjourned.

R. S. McCLELLAND,
Acting Clerk.

GRADUATION DAY AT ELON

Forty-Three Young Men and Women Receive Degrees—Portrait Presented.

(Special Star Correspondence)

Ellon College, N. C., June 3.—Graduation day was the most largely attended in a quarter century. Long before the hour scheduled for the baccalaureate procession every seat in the auditorium was taken and the people sitting in waiting for the beginning of the great event of any commencement—the exercises of graduation.

At 10 o'clock the college band truck a pleasing melody and the chief marshals began leading the baccalaureate procession to the rostrum, where the three young ladies and three young men chosen to represent their class were to speak. The representatives were Misses Ethel Crewe Barrett, Dayton, O.; Lillian Belle Johnson, Cardenas, N. C.; and Viola Virginia Rollings, Sebrell, Va.; and Messers. Clyde Carney Johnson, Siler City, N. C.; Joseph Franklin Morgan, Spies, N. C.; and Marvin Stanford Revel, Kenly, N. C.

President Harper then conferred degrees on 43 graduates.

Rev. J. Pressley Barrett, D. D., Dayton, Ohio, editor of the Herald of Gospel Liberty, then presented each member of the graduating class with a Bible as the chart and compass of life and the loving gift of alma mater.

Rev. J. O. Atkinson, D. D., editor of the Christion Sun, on behalf of Deacon and Mrs. Willis J. Lee, Bennett Creek, Va., two of the staunchest friends Elon has ever had, presented the college with a life oil portrait of former President W. W. Staley, who served Elon for eleven constructive years and resigned to give his entire time to his pastorate in Suffolk, Va., where he has served for nearly forty years continuously and where he has built up a most magnificent church. The painting was done by Miss Eula Long, head of the college art department, and was the subject of enthusiastic praise. President Harper accepted the portrait on behalf of the college, paying a warm tribute to the friends who gave it and to the Christion statesman whom it represented on canvass.

This afternoon the art department gave its annual exhibit in the annex of the West dormitiry, second floor, adjoining the art studio. Several hundred paintings were displayed and many of them were of superior merit.

At 8 o'clock in the evening Rev. H. E. Rountree, A. B., Greensboro, of the class of 1903, delivered the alumni oration. Mr. Rountree was introduced by President D. R. Fonville of the alumni association as one of the men who fully represent the Elon spirit and aim. This introduction was eminently fitting the address that followed, in which Mr. Rountree outlined the Responsibilities of the Alumni. The speaker traced the history of Elon in broad, striking outline and then, gave himself to interpreting its spirit, which he declared to be the spirit of Christian brotherliness. He felt that the Alumni should exemplify this spirit, impressed indelibly upon them four years, in their daily and professional life after graduation, for in this way they would do their part in building up the reputation of their College and attract patronage to it as well as give it prestige in the eyes of all observant thinkers. He expressed extreme satisfaction at the attempt of for the Alumni uilding and rejoiced for the Alumni biulding and rejoiced that successful culmination could be predicted by another commencement.

Following the alumni address the usual alumni banquet occurred in the college dining hall, where many toasts were responded to, gaiety and myth and jocose laughter were enthroned amid roses and bounteous dainties from the caterer's deft hands.

MAJ. STEDMAN RE-NOMINATED

To Serve Third Term in Congress—Fifth District.

Greensboro, N. C., June 3.—(Special Star Correspondence).—Congressman Charles Manly Stedman was last night re-nominated by the Democrats of the Fifth congressional district as the party's candidate for congressman in the November election. Major Stedman has served the district four years, having succeeded the Hon. John Motley Morehead, of Spray, Republican state chairman.

The speech nominating Major Stedman was made by A. Wayland Cooke, of the local bar, a former law partner of the congressman and his manager in his first campaign. Mr. Cooke made a very fitting speech. Major Stedman accented the nomination and outlined the issues of the campaign.

STOMACH TROUBLE FOR FIVE YEARS

Majority of Friends Thought Mr. Hughes Would Die, But One Helped Him to Recovery.

Pomeroyton, Ky.—In interesting advices from this place, Mr. A. J. Hughes writes as follows: "I was down with stomach trouble for five (5) years, and would have sick headache so bad, at times, that I thought surely i would die.

I tried different treatments, but they did not seem to do me any good.

I got so bad, I could not eat or sleep, and all my friends, except one, thought I would die. He advised me to try Thedford's Black-Draught, and quit taking other medicines. I decided to take his advice, although I did not have any confidence in it.

I have now been taking Black-Draught for three months, and it has cured me—haven't had those awful sick headaches since I began using it.

I am so thankful for what Black-Draught has done for me."

Thedford's Black-Draught has been found a very valuable medicine for derangements of the stomach and liver. It is composed of pure, vegetable herbs, contains no dangerous ingredients, and acts gently, yet surely. It can be freely used by young and old, and should be kept in every family chest.

Most Skin Trouble Readily Overcome

The Active Principle of a Famous Remedy Works Wonders.

Many people have marveled the way S. S. S. overcomes skin troubles. The explanation is the fact that S. S. S. works in the blood and the blood is really a most intricate and extraordinary mass of arteries and veins.

When you come to realize that the skin and the flesh beneath are composed of a network of tiny blood vessels you solve the mystery.

There are wonderful medicinal properties in S. S. S. that follow the course of the blood streams just as naturally as the most nourishing food elements.

It is really a remarkable remedy. It contains one ingredient, the active purpose of which is to stimulate the tissues to the healthy selection of its own essential nutriment. And the medicinal elements of this matchless blood purifier are just as essential to well-balanced health as the nutritious elements of the meats, grains, fats and sugars of our daily food.

Not one drop of minerals or drugs is used in its preparation. Ask for S. S. S. and just insist upon having it. And if you desire skillful advice and counsel upon any matter concerning the blood and skin, write to the Medical Department, The Swift Specific Co., 529 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

Do not allow some zealous clerk's eloquence over something "just as good" as S. S. S. to fool you with the same old mineral drugs. Beware of all substitutes. Insist upon S. S. S.

The Bull Moose party ought to split so it will be in the fashion.

Colonel Bryan should turn the dove of peace over to his critics.

If the mediators should disagree, the jig's up for early peace in Mexico.

There ought to be more deliberation and more deliberateness in Congress than discussion and debate.

Some States have too much governor while others do not have much of a governor.

Some judge has come to the conclusion that a court is an evil. The judge merely confirms the opinion of all evil doers.

Many a man who believes in doing unto others as they do unto him, keeps his new bills and pays them the old ones.

The way to keep from saying harsh things is to think over what you are thinking about saying. Then refrain from saying what you think.

Says the Charleston Post: "All one has to do to keep cool is to imagine that one is an icicle.' We'd rather be an ice cream cone.

A Wilmington man says he is afraid his mother-in-law has about persuaded his wife to go away for the Summer and take him along.

In this country baseballists receive $12,000 to $18,000 a year. Poets receive cold comfort and have to buy their own sandwiches.

A man recently hanged himself to escape the heat. Most men would never think of doing that, for fear they would jump from the frying pan into the fire.

Governor Blease says he works under the Golden Rule. Then, most people are mistaken in the impression they have that the Governor works under high pressure as a rule.

On Monday, the City of Mexico was rife with rumors that Huerta had fled, but later it was discovered that he was going the rounds of the resorts to sample what they had to drink.

Paris has two new dances, one called the "Fado-Fado" and the other the "Very Pickle." A great many people are denouncing them, and, of course, that creates in everybody intense curiosity to see the new dances.

Some men who work for party success think they ought to be paid off with a fat office. If that it what they are working for, there is no wonder they become disappointed and grouchy because they can't get what they work for.

Quite a number of people are bobbing up with predictions that time is up and the world is about to come to an end. We pay no attention to people who are amateur prophets. We fear some of them will come to a bad end before the world does.

A Newberry cotton mill president told Governor Blease to "go to hell." We don't know what reply the Governor made, but up in Chester the customary retort is "I don't care to go there and crowd out your kinsfolks.'

The numerous challenges to joint debates during the compaign in Georgia, indicates that some politicians think the people will pick them for the biggest men if they can do more windjamming than their opponents. There is a great deal in that. Many people have been carried away by a bag of wind.

The latest picture of Huerta shows him standing in the midst of nine friends grouped around a table. Some party empty bottles are standing on the table and near them are a number of glasses, the which is evidence that the waterwagon is conspicuous by its absence. The convivial persons shown in the picture appear to have posed for the photographer, who no doubt got a drink as well as the picture.

WHAT A MAN IS FIT FOR.

With most men, life is one struggle right after another. Life is strewn with the failures of men, and it seems that most of those who fail go into some business under the idea that it is a soft snap and that there is nothing but easy sailing ahead. Men imagine they can conduct most any business better than the men who are trying to run it and often they go into it and fail before they realize it.

Business looks awfully easy to the fellow who is not in it, and to thousands the retail grocery business looks like a ten-year-old boy could run it. Men go into that business with the idea that they will teach all the old dogs new tricks in the trade, and even "close up" some grocer who has been in the business all his life. However, a well posted correspondent of the New York Journal of Commerce states that annually there are more failures in the retail grocery business than in any other line of business in the country. He says that out of approximately 350,000 retail grocers in the United States, something like 90 per cent fail each year. This means that there are left in the business about 35,000 grocers who have the knowledge, tact, capital and experience to run a successful grocery business. The writer in the Journal of Commerce thinks it is well to disabuse the minds of men of the impression that the retail grocery business is easy, but that they should only go into it with the understanding that it is a painstaking, arduous occupation, requiring close attention, tact, and care.

That won't keep men out of any business, however, for the majority of men are satisfied that they could run any business better than those engaged in it. There are those who imagine that they can go into the law and put all the old lawyers out of business. There are some who wonder why any doctor should have a patient, were they to take a medical course and wade into their bailiwick. There are those who think they can handle the banking business to perfection, or get out three times a better paper than those who are trying to publish a newspaper. They think it is easy, without really knowing how awfully easy it is—that is to fail in either publishing a paper or in meeting expenses one week after another for 52 weeks every year.

There are failures in all kinds of undertakings, because men misplace confidence in themselves, because of bad judgment, because of lack of experience, and because of the actual want of the capacity which they imagine they have. They won't let anybody tell them anything. They have to learn from experience, and there are very few but whose experience is sad. A man who has the nerve, however, will go right into any business he wants to, so it is time wasted to warn men to be careful with themselves.

FAIR MINDED MEN.

How few men are absolutely fair minded? How few partisan politicians know what it is to be either fair, considerate or consistent. Now and then, however, there are men who are so fair minded that they will not even condemn a political opponent till he is weighed in the balance and found wanting.

Mr. Grosvenor Clarkson, a New York Progressive, seems to be the kind of man who wants to see Wilson's policies tried out before he will consent to criticise or condemn them. "It seems to me," he writes to the New York Times, "that where we cannot solve, we should be silent. It seems to me that we should, for a space at least, look a little beyond party exigencies, and contemplate the motives and the fiercely pressing problem of Mr. Wilson—that we should, in short, apply a little of the tolerance of our common daily life to our present outlook in respect of that which confronts the President."

Mr. Clarkson writes like a patriot, and evidently is free from the narrow minded partisanship which moves there politicians to indict and agitate for party advantage. It is rather singular that most of that spirit is found among Republicans when we have a Democratic National administration. When the Republicans were in power and their President—the American President—adopted a foreign policy, or took a course to back it up, the Democrats held up his hands. At least, they never embarrassed him by condemning him while he was endeavoring to act wisely and well for the Nation.

With reference to the criticisms of President Wilson's Mexican policy, Mr. Clarkson suggests that since none of the critics have come forward with a better plan, we should wait and see how the Wilson plan turns out. "No individual, political body or public interest, as expressed in printers' ink," writes Mr. Clarkson, "has, to my knowledge, been able to point out for Mr. Wilson a practical or even a definite remedy for the situation south of the Rio Grande."

That is a calm, dispassionate view by an unbiased, fair-minded political opponent of the President, yet we have heard Democrats taking the view of critics who criticise without offering any kind of policy in lieu of President Wilson's plan to keep this country out of war as long as possible.

GAIN ABOVE PATRIOTISM.

"War tries men's souls" is an old saying, but sometimes it takes war to disclose how much like craven birds of prey some men are when they get a chance to make money at the expense of their own country, very frequently to its detriment. President Lincoln found that out when he discovered that all men were not patriots, but that some were more like beasts of prey, caring nothing for their country except to rob it while it faced its enemies.

President Wilson is experiencing some of that sort of thing. American firms are shipping to Mexico American guns and war material that in a few months may be used to slay Americans, if ultimately this country has to pacify Mexico by force. Even with the embargo against such shipments, cargoes of munitions of war are being smuggled by Americans into Mexico through the ports of adjoining countries. If that is not the work of traitors, what is it?

An Alabamian named Blackman disappeared from home in 1893, leaving behind his wife and children. After an absence of 21 years he recently returned from Brazil where he accumulated a fortune. He found his wife living in poverty, his children uneducated, and their social position cast on a low scale. He gave the family $50,000 in cash, provided an income of $5,000 a year for each of his children, and, of course, they were all happy—to get the money. The old man realized that his long deserted wife and children had never forgotten how to love, for each and every one immediately loved every dollar he brought back from Brazil. However, the long lost husband and father found out that the family thought more of the family dog than they did of him, so he packed up and went back to Brazil, and nobody cares. The family will be happy to see him if he should ever come back with another pocketful of money.

Money appropriated by Congress for the National Guard of South Carolina will be kept in the United States Treasury till it is appropriated to some other State. Governor Blease does not approve the Dick Military law, and calls Secretary Garrison "a little bald-headed Yankee" because he wants to manage the War Department without getting the permission of Blease. South Carolina isn't "getting much" these times but a bad brand of notoriety.

Some of the Senatorial candidates in Georgia have been accused of being henchmen of Senator Hoke Smith. They are pointed out as fellows who are running on the "coat tails of Smith." It is not stated whether the other condidates are palaverous poltroons or persons who think they can "tote their own skillet."

In the Senatorial fight in Georgia, it is proposed to have "a joint discussion on a high plane." There are five aspirants and all of them have already made unladylike references to each other. We fear those Georgians will prefer to get on a high horse instead of participating in a high plane performance.

CURRENT COMMENT.

It is announced that Marion Butler is to "come back" in North Carolina politics. It is just possible, however, that he merely thinks so.—Greensboro News.

Any town that rises up on its hind legs and howls when it is proposed to curtail health work is all right. Wilmington citizens have done that. —Raleigh Times.

The Australian ballot, State-wide primaries and the commission form of government are three reforms which every North Carolinian should favor.—Asheville Citizen.

The action of the Tenth district congressional convention in endorsing a State-wide primary law is more assurance that the State convention which meets here Thursday will take decided action. There is a strong sentiment for the convention to endorse a primary applying only to State, Congressional and judicial offices and allowing the various counties to decide the question of primaries for themselves.—Raleigh Times.

Manifestly there is something wrong in the dairying industry at Wilmington. Some weeks ago the standard price of 10 cents in that town was passed and now the price charged by some of the dealers reaches 15 cents. There is talk of indictment under the charge of conspiracy in restraint of trade and it looks like a good case could be made out. The dealer who is not satisfied with 12 1-2 cents and goes to 15 will naturally go from 15 to 20 if he gets the chance. Where it will stop depends upon the consumers. It would be hard to conceive community conditions which would justify such prices for milk as the people of Wilmington are paying. It is a bad advertisement for the town. —Charlotte Observer.

The University of North Carolina is fortunate indeed in its friends. It grows stronger with the years because of the men who acclaim it as Alma Mater. Good fortune has come to it at this time through one of its alumni, for it was announced last night during the exercises at the University that Mr. Isaac E. Emerson, of Baltimore, of the class of 1879, will have built for it a stadium which will seat 2,500 people. The announcement was made through Prof. M. C. S. Noble, an intimate friend and classmate of Mr. Emerson, and it will carry rejoicing to the hearts of all who desire to see athletics flourish at the University. The gift—and it is a splendid one—means for greater baseball, for greater football, for greater athletics in every way at the University of the State. "Splendidly done" is the most fitting language with which to describe this magnificent gift of Mr. Emerson. It shows his love for the State University, his interest in athletics, his generous spirit. In future years the gift, when put to use, will mean for increased interest in athletics, and will add to the features which make the State University the great institution it is. The Emerson Stadium is a donation which will in the years to come be a memorial of the splendid spirit of helpfulness shown by Isaac E. Emerson, of the class of '79. May his tribe increase.—Raleigh News and Observer.

SAYS WORLD WILL NEVER SEE UNIVERSAL PEACE.

Evangelist Declares Millenium Will Not be Preceded by Such.

"Do not be deceived by the talk of a millennium of peace on earth. Today Europe is an armed camp: fighting craft guard her harbors; the men and boys are thinking and talking war; even the little children are playing at war. There will never be lasting, universal peace between the nations of this world," said Carlyle B. Haynes, the evangelist and lecturer, last night to an audience at his big chautauqua tent at 11th and Market streets, where large numbers of people are assembling every night to attend the Bible lectures he is giving.

The subject last night was the millennium. He declared that the popular idea that the millennium would bring in a reign of peace was a delusion and was not taught in the Bible. said the Bible did teach that the millennium would begin with the coming of Christ; that at that time the righteous dead would be raised and the righteous living translated to heaven where they would live and reign with Christ during the millennium; that the wicked dead would not be raised at that time, and the wicked who were living would all be put to death at the coming of Christ, and this earth would be in a desolate, waste condition during the millennium, inhabited only by Satan and his hosts. At close of the millennium, he said, the Holy City would descend from heaven with the righteous, the wicked would be raised and punished, and the whole earth would be regenerated by fire and become the eternal abiding place of the people of God.

Before the millennium Mr. Haynes predicted on the basis of the prophecies of the Bible that universal, devastating war would come between the nations of the earth. "And," he said, "a third of a century ago universal war was considered inevitable by the soldiers and statesmen of the world. It is still considered inevitable. While some of the rulers of Europe send out prettily engraved invitations they are crowding their gun factories to the limit with orders for larger guns, and their navy yards for larger ships. That they expect war and not peace is shown by the well-nigh crushing burden of taxation which they have imposed upon their people. They fully realize that all these pent-up agencies of destruction are soon to be let loose on an unprepared world."

Tonight at the tent Mr. Haynes will deliver an address on the subject "Cartoons of the Master Artise," which will be an explanation of the prophecy of the seventh chapter of Daniel.

JUDGE ROUNTREE ENDORSED.

Bar of Cumberland County Bears Testimony to His Worth.

The measure of worth of a judicial officer is more aptly determined by those competent to judge, rather than by public acclaim. Judge George Rountree, of this city, measured by either standard, however, has won a high place in the esteem of both the bar and the public. Recently his unanimous and enthusiastic re-nomination by the judicial convention in this city, attested his popularity with the people at large. The bar of Cumberland county at the adjournment of court at Fayetteville last week, placed the judicial "stamp of approval" on Judge Rountree in the following very neat compliment presented by a committee from the bar, appointed for that purpose:

"Resolved, By the members of the bar of Cumberland county, that we thank His Honor George Rountree for his uniform kindness and courtesy as presiding judge of the courts of this county for the spring term of 1914.

"He has held the courts of this county, both civil and criminal, since January 1914, with great ability and he has always maintained the dignity of the law in the proper administration of justice, at all times impartial, kind and considerate of the rights of counsel parties, witnesses and jurors.

PHYSICIANS INVITED TO ATTEND MEETING

Health Matter to be Taken Up Again This Afternoon.

Resolution by Councilman Jones Asks Seven Doctors to Attend and State Reasons for Opposition to Health Budget.

Final action on the differences between the citizens and members of City Council relative to the health budget matter may be reached at a joint session this afternoon at 4 o'clock of Council and the committee of 25 appointed at the mass meeting held Monday night, to which seven prominent physicians of the city who have been reported as being opposed to the manner in which the health work is carried on, are invited through a resolution introduced by Councilman W. F. Jones, passed at the joint session of Council and the citizens committee yesterday, at which time further consideration of the matter was postponed until the meeting this afternoon on account of the absence of Councilman Chas. C. Loughlin, who was out of the city, and Councilman T. W. Wood, who was ill.

The joint meeting yesterday afternoon followed a proposal from Council that the matter be settled by an arbitration committee, to which proposition the citizens' committee refused to agree. The suggestion from City Council that the matter be settled by arbitration was made at the weekly meeting yesterday morning, and the action of the committee in declining to accede to the suggestion was taken at a meeting held in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce at noon, as told in detail in another column.

The seven doctors invited to attend the meeting this afternoon are the physicians to whom reference has been made a number of times by Councilman Jones and others voting for the reduced budget, as expressing themselves to the Councilmen as being of the opinion that the present Health Board is inefficient, and the action of Councilman Jones in introducing a resolution asking them to attend the meeting and give the reasons for their opinion on the matter followed a suggestion from Mr. M. W. Jacobi a member of the committee.

The physicians named are Drs. E. J. Wood, A. H. Harriss, Joseph Akerman, Harllee Bellamy, Thos. S. Burbank, T. M. Green and G. G. Thomas. The first five were mentioned in one of the conferences several days ago by Councilman Jones as having advised him that the Health Board was inefficient, and the two latter were added to the list at the meeting yesterday afternoon.

Present at the joint session yesterday afternoon were Mayor Moore and Councilmen D. N. Chadwick, Jr., B. A. Merritt and W. F. Jones, also City Clerk and Treasurer T. D. Meares, as well as practically the complete committee of 25 representing the citizens. Councilman C. C. Loughlin was absent, attending the commencement exercises at Chapel Hill, and Councilman T. W. Wood was reported too ill to attend the meeting. Mr. Wood had planned to leave the city this morning for Texas, on a business trip, but his illness may interfere with his plans.

Mayor P. Q. Moore called the meeting to order and at the request of the mayor the clerk read a copy of a letter from Dr. C. W. Stiles, stationed at the United States Marine Hospital here, to the Surgeon General of the United States Public Health Service, relative to the citizens' mass meeting held Monday night, copies of which Dr. Stiles had sent to Mayor Moore and Chairman Martin S. Willard, of the Board of Health, and in which Dr. Stiles declares that in holding such a meeting Wilmington and New Hanover county have set to the entire country an intelligent and inspiring example.

Following the reading of the letter, it was suggested from several that by reason of Councilmen Wood and Loughlin being absent, it might be well to postpone the meeting until this afternoon, by which time Councilman Loughlin will have returned to the city.

However, Mr. J. Allan Taylor, chairman of the citizens' committee, said that it was up to the Council as to whether the matter should be gone into at that time. He indicated that if the members of Council opposing the full budget had experienced a change of attitude by reason of the requests of the citizens' mass meeting, as presented through the committee, then the members of the committee would be glad to go ahead and settle the matter, but if they had not he thought it only fair to wait until Mr. Loughlin returned.

Councilman W. F. Jones stated that he thought that it would be well to let the matter go over until today, stating that personally he would like to have a little more time to consider the recent developments.

Councilman Merritt asked Mr. Taylor what the committee thought of Council's suggestion that the matter be left to an arbitration committee to be settled, to which Mr. Taylor replied that the committee did not think it a matter requiring arbitration. He reviewed again the developments in the matter, from the meeting last week, when a delegation of citizens appeared before Council to ask that the budget be passed as recommended by the Board of Health, on down to the mass meeting held Monday night, and the committee meeting yesterday. He declared that if members of Council had held back from passing the full budget because they desired an expression from the public on the matter, they need not do so longer, in view of the unanimous expressions of approval of the health administration, and the lack of any public expressions of opposition. He again declared that it did not lie within the Council's duties to name or control the personnel of the health board, or the policy of the body, and asked why members of Council wanted to assume an unnecessary responsibility.

Mr. Jones here inquired of Mr. Taylor if he thought Council should accept the opinion of the health board as to the needs of the health department, in view of conflicting opinions held by other physicians of the city.

Mr. Taylor, in reply, observed that it mattered not what might be the ability of a private practitioner, because in the nature of the case, he had no intimate knowledge of general health conditions and that his opinion at best was a horse-back one and would not entitle him to the same consideration as the views of physicians on the health board, or others identified with the health work. That the mass meeting Monday night was called for the purpose of hearing both proponents and opponents of the health budget, the purpose of the meeting being to gain information and develop public sentiment, to the end that the Council might be enlightened thereby. That there was not a voice raised in opposition to the health budget and if private practitioners held views so pronouncedly against the budget as to influence councilmen, this public meeting was the time and the place for them to make a public statement of the facts on which they base their opinions. That the position of a physician in a community was one of great honor and responsibility and value; that they were the conservators of the public health and that the public had a right to look to this class of citizens above all others for aid and enlightenment in a matter so seriously affecting the public weal.

It was then that Mr. Jacobi suggested that invitations be extended to the physicians in question to be present at the meeting this afternoon, and give the ground for their opinion that the present health board was inefficient. Mr. Taylor approved the suggestion, and several other members of the committee also expressed the hope that they could be induced to give the public the benefit of their opinions on the subject, whereupon Councilman Jones offered a resolution providing that an invitation be extended to all physicians opposed to a full health budget to be present at the meeting. This resolution was passed and the meeting then adjourned.

The letter written by Dr. Stiles to the Surgeon General of the Public Health Service, and read at the meeting yesterday afternoon, is as follows:

Dr. Stiles' Letter.

"Wilmington, N. C., June 1, 1914.

"The Surgeon General, U. S. Public Health Service, Washington, D. C.

"Sir:—This evening there was held in Wilmington, N. C., one of the most remarkable public health meetings I have ever attended. It was a citizens' mass meeting, called by prominent citizens and attended by 500 to 600 men, many of them among the most prominent leaders in the city and county.

"It was called to consider the action of the City Council in cutting down, by about $5,000, the budget as presented by the County Board of Health and as approved by the County Commissioners. This cut in the budget would result in a reduction of two full-time health officers to one, a reduction in the number of sanitary police, and an elimination of the sanitary engineer. For several years past there has been here a considerable amount of lack of harmony in reference to the health work. The health office has had an uphill fight against various elements, but has increased in efficiency and activities, notwithstanding the opposition.

"Two years ago, two public protest meetings were held to voice public sentiment against the action of the health office. Tonight, the protest was against limiting the work and the expansion of the health office.

"In the City Council, the Mayor and one Councilman were in favor of the budget, while four Councilmen expressed themselves against portions of it. A committee of citizens appeared before the Council and requested

COUNCIL'S POSITION CLEARER

No Curtailment of Health Work While Investigation is Under Way—May Be Agreement Today.

Chairman Taylor, of the Citizens' Health Committee, last night issued an urgent call for a meeting of his commitee at the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce at 12:30 o'clock P. M., today and members are requested to accept this as a personal notice and be present at the time stated as a matter of great importance will be presented for consideration.

Developments in the local imbroglio over the health situation followed thick and fast yesterday, reference being made in other columns of today's paper to the several meetings held yesterday looking to some settlement of the controversy so that the health of the community may not be allowed to suffer in consequence of reduced forces and appropriations as proposed by some members of the city council.

The latest development came last night in the form of a positive statement from Councilman B. A. Merritt to the effect that it was not the purpose of the three members of the city governing body to curtail the health work in the least pending the proposed disinterested investigation of the efficiency of the health department and its economic operation, but that ample funds would be provided in the meantime to carry out the scope of the work as proposed by the Board of Health.

This was not so understood by the Citizens' Committee, which appeared before the board yesterday and declined to enter into the investigation or "arbitration" as it was unfortunately miscalled in the resolution passed by council, naming Mr. Wm. E. Worth, as the "investigator" or "arbitrator" on behalf of council. Prominent members of the Citizens' Committee spoken to last night in regard to the matter stated that so far as they were concerned they courted the fullest investigaton of the health department and with the provision that there be no curtailment of the work in the meantime, they were perfectly willing to see that all the facts about the health department were fully brought out and given to the public, which is vitaly concerned in the matter. While the members spoken to, could not speak for the full committee, they were emphatically of the opinion that the committee would welcome any sort of fair investigation of the health department as they have nothing to conceal and are only concerned to the extent that the health of the community be conserved to the fulest extent.

As noted above Chairman Taylor, of the Citizens' Committee, issues a call for a meeting of his committee at 12:30 o'clock, at which it is believed some agreement will be reached that will neither do violence to the opinions of the councilmen or compromise the emphatic stand taken by the committee that the health work must not suffer.

ANNUAL REPORT ON STREETS

Submitted to Council Yesterday by Superintendent McAllister— Report on Scavenging.

Report for the year ending May 31st, 1914, was made to City Council in weekly session yesterday morning by Superintendent of Streets John C. McAllister. The report reviews in detail the work accomplished by the street cleaning department during the past year. The report of the city sanitary department was also submitted by Mr. Jas. E. Holton, the superintendent, and after it had been read Councilman Merritt called attention to the fact that it showed that the work was being daily brought nearer a self supporting basis, averaging for the past nine months only $200 over the receipts.

Mr. McAllister's report is as follows:

"To the Mayor and Board of Council
Mr. B. A. Merritt, Councilman in Charge:

"I beg to submit this, my annual report for the year ending May 31st, 1914:

"I have graded and paved Second street, Red Cross to Campbell, with Belgian blocks, removed from Front street; paved approaches to Sixth street bridge with Belgian blocks and bricks, using old blocks from Front street; relaid Princess street from Front to Second; made clay-gravel road on Sixth street, for Red Cross to Grace, also Queen street from Surry to the river; Seventh street, Dock to Orange; Front street, Castle to Queen; Castle street Seventh to Eighth; Chestnut street, Fourth to Fifth; Second street, Market to Orange; plowed and rolled Nixon, Fourth to Tenth; Harnett, Fourth to Eighth; patched and rolled 69 blocks using Standard road oil on 44 blocks as a road binder.

Set 1,200 feet of curbing; reset 1,595 feet of curbing, total of 2,815 feet. Bult nine new manholes, fifteen new sand traps and cleaned all sand traps monthly. Have laid the following drain pipe for which $500 was appropriated, 1,853 feet of 12-inch; 139 feet 10-inch; 483 feet 15-inch, and 30 feet of 6-inch. Total 1,555 feet.

"Have kept all bridges and wharves in repair. Would ask Council permission to pipe ditch at Fifteenth and Castle and remove bridge.

"Built 1,200 feet of fence and removed same for use during Firemen's tournament and kept course clean which was a pleasure for me to do. Have had a force of four men continualby working on thees which had such damage caused by sleet storm in February. Will require six more months to complete same.

"Would call Council's attention to street plazas. I am keeping two men continuously at work on same, together with civic pride that our citizens are taking in them through the efforts of Prof. J. J. Blair, teachers and school children.

"Have fenced in city stables and painted all buildings and built office. On September 1st assumed charge of garbage and carron department until April 27th and with no appropriation for same collected 517 loads of garbage had 1,280 calls for carron including 21 horse and seven cows.

"Collected and hauled 14,876 loads of trash of which 1,806 was hauled during our first annual clean up week.

"Hauled 51 loads of wood for charity during year.

"Revenue from street sweep-
"Revenue fro mstreet sweepings 234.45

"Total.. .. ..$3351.00

"Have examined light report in the police department daily and notified T. W. P. Co. for all new lights to be installed, for all lights reported out and in bad order.

"At the beginning of the year there were in use the following street lights:

"125 are lamps at $60.00 each.

"43 street Tungsten arches (11 lights to the arch) at $85.000 per each.

"127 single Tungstens at $23.00 each.

"145 gas lamps at $25.00 each.

"A total of 870 single lamps.

"At the beginning of the year arch lamps were reduced from $60 to $57.50, Tungsten arches from $85 to $82.50, single Tungstens from $23 to $20 and gas lamps from $25 to $24.

"During the year there have been added one are lamp and 21 single Tungsten lamps. There are also seven additional single Tungsten lamps which have recently been ordered by the Council, but which have not as yet been placed. When these are in there will be

"26 arc lamps.
"43 Tungsten arches,
"155 single Tungstens,
"145 gas lamps,
"A total of 899 lamps.

"During the year a new type of nitrogen Mazda lamp has been tested in various locations throughout the city. These lamps were burned in place of arc lamps. They give a higher candle power and a better quality of light. Eight of these nitrogen Mazda lamps are being installed in the block on Front street, between Princess and Chestnut. These lamps give 600 candle power each. Two of them will be installed in place of one Tungsten arch, giving 1,200 candle power in place of 660 candle power as given by each arch. In addition to the higher candle power per block these lights will replace the strings of lights across the street, thereby making a neater appearance in the day time.

"The Tungsten arches are being taken down temporarily in this one block and the new lamps installed for demonstration purposes and at no additional cost to the city. The idea is to show the character of the light and the results obtained from this new type of lamp rather than any changes in the line construction.

"In conclusion I desire to thank the men in this department for the faithful performance of their duty during the year.

"To the press and public I wish to express my sincere thanks for kind words and assistance received from them.

"My sincere thanks are due to your honorable body for courtesies and co-operation during the past year.

"I desire to thank you in behalf of the employes of this department for the increase in pay which they are to receive during the coming year."

Superintendent Holton submitted his report as follows:

"Mr. B. A. Merritt, Councilman.

"Dear Sir:I beg to submit the following for month of May.

"Collections for sanitary work, $603.70; collection for slops, 8.75; expense for sanitary and garbage department about $1,100.

"I have just put into service three new garbage carts which are covered and lined so as to make them water tight also four covered carts for the sanitary work.

"Have built concrete basin at city stables, same having sewer connection also have water connection at same for keeping all carts thoroughly cleaned which is done daily.

"Have made 396 carrion calls the past month and making collection of garbage from about 360 places daily and have furnished health department with a list of same daily.

"I have had some few complaints for garbage and in several instances were due to servants holding slops for private parties and they failing to get same promptly.

"Have asked that the health regulations be enforced that require all persons collecting slops to get a permit and furnish the health department with a list of the places they collect from, then if same are not collected promptly their permit can be revoked, by so doing I will not be held responsible for some one else failue to collect promptly.

"Commencing the 15th of May I cleaned all places condemned and in addition have cleaned every closet in numerous alleys and as soon as I can get a complete list will have all places cleaned promptly not waiting for same to be condemned.

"Number of condemnations received from health department or May, 3,499; number of places cleaned, 3,-903; amount of collections for past year, $6,755.55; expense of collections for past year, $8,751.71.

"Of the amount of expense about $350 was for equipment that I had to get when work was taken over from health department cost to city about $200 per month."

COUNCIL'S PROPOSAL DECLINED BY CITIZENS

Unwilling to Arbitrate Health Budget Matter

Councilman Wood Ready to Vote for Full Health Budget—Committee Held Meeting Yesterday at Noon.

Proposing arbitration as a solution of the controversy between the majority of Council and the citizens, following the action of Council in reducing the budget for the health department, a resolution was passed at the weekly meeting yesterday morning suggesting that the matter be referred to a committee of three members, one to be selected by Council, one by the citizens' committee of 25, and these two to select the third, and naming Mr. W. E. Worth as the representative of the City Council. A copy of the resolution was communicated to the citizens' committee, in session at the Chamber of Commerce at noon, and that body, after some discussion, declined to consider the arbitration proposition, and passed a resolution insisting that Council reopen the matter and pass the budget for the health department as approved by the Board of Health.

The resolution passed by Council was introduced by Councilman Jones, and was signed by Councilmen Jones, Merritt and Wood. Mr. Wood made a statement, however, to the effect that before coming to the meeting he had made up his mind to either change his vote on the budget matter or resign, and that after thinking it over he had concluded that it would not be right for him to resign, so that he was prepared to vote for the health budget as approved by the Board of Health.

However, in view of the suggestions of arbitration, he thought that this was a good idea, and he would concur in the proposal. He asked, however, that a statement which he had prepared, be read and placed on record. It is a follows:

"After a year's experience with, and observation of the workings of the Health Department during my term as Councilman, and without surrendering my right as Councilman to vote as my conscience and judgment dictate, in deference to the request made at a citizens' meeting Monday night, on whom the responsibility for my vote must now rest, I vote to concur in the budget as recommended by the Board of Health."

Council's Suggestion.

Councilman Jones' resolution, following a preamble in which it is set forth that though the members who voted for a reduction of the health budget have not changed their minds, in view of requests from prominent citizens and physicians that no reduction in the budget be made, they were willing to reconsider the matter, is as follows:

"Be it Resolved, by the Council of the City of Wilmington, That we propose and suggest that a full investigation of these questions be referred to a committee of competent citizens, to be composed of three members, one member to be selected by the Citizens' Committee, one member by this Council, and the third member to be selected by these two, said committee to report the result of their investigation to a joint meeting between interested citizens and members of the Council, and be it therefore,

"Resolved, That this Council hereby designates Mr. W. E. Worth, a capable and prominent citizen and large taxpayer, as the official representative of this board on said investigation committee."

Mr. Jones, in introducing the resolution, said that he had not spoken to the other members about it, and did not know how they would consider the suggestion, but that he was unwilling to take any action on the health budget until further information had been secured. He had not changed his views, he said, but that after discussing the matter with citizens he thought that such an investigation would be the proper way of arriving at some solution of the controversy.

Councilman Merritt immediately seconded the resolution, declaring that he thought that the money appropriated to the health department had not been judiciously expended, and doubted if it would be in the future. He thought that such an investigation might have the effect of bringing some disclosures of interest in connection

PHYSICIANS ASKED TO ATTEND MEETING

the opposing Councilmen to change their attitude. One Councilman was won over, but three stood out against certain details in the budget. This action resulted in the meeting this evening. The Council had been invited to attend, but only the Mayor and one Councilman appeared.

"The meeting unanimously endorsed the budget as originally proposed, and provided for the appointment of a committee of 25 citizens to appear before the Council to urge reconsideration of its action.

"The meeting was the occasion of a calm discussion of the value of and necessity for health work. It was a meeting, not of a political party, but of heads of families who calmly but firmly demanded that no backward step be taken in respect to the protection of the women and children against unnecessary sickness. It was a practical answer to the question whether the present day campaign for better sanitary conditions is making progress. No one could attend the meeting without feeling the serious and encouraging significance involved. It meant that the leading citizens of the city of Wilmington and the county of New Hanover are determined that no reasonable effort be omitted to make this locality as healthful as modern sanitary science can make it; it meant that when public health is concerned, the enlightened citizen realizes the difference between cheapness and economy.

"Were it possible to reproduce this meeting in moving picture and phonograph, the film and the record would be an educative factor and influence of very far-reaching importance throughout the entire country.

"A mere recital of the facts conveys but a faint idea of the significance of this unusual spectacle. Father of families plead seriously, earnestly, calmly, eloquently, that no backward step be taken, but that the lives and health of the women and children be surrounded by every safeguard within reason.

"Politics, financial considerations, even the well-earned reputation of the city and county were kept in the background. The keynote of the entire meeting was that health work must be kept in the line of progress and that the lives of women and children were to be held above all other considerations.

"Wilmington and New Hanover have tonight set to the entire country an intelligent and an inspiring example. "Respectfully,

"C. W. STILES,
"Professor of Zoology."

SENIOR CLASS EXERCISES

Annual Commencement Play at High School Tonight—Closing. Exercises at Bear Memorial.

The annual senior class day exercises of the Hight School will take place tonight at 8:30 o'clock on the Hight School campus when the "Passing Show of 1914" will be given. The dignified seniors have been working for months on this production and promise something really orginial and strictly modern. The scene is the "Royal Gardens of Tilestonia" and the seniors are the characters. The play will be given on an improvised stage where all can see.

This morning at 9 o'clock the closing exercises of the Isaac Bear Memorial school will take place. The children will give an entertainment after which the Daughters of the Confederacy will present a picture to the school. Supt. John J. Blair will have charge of the exercises.

The closing exercises of the Union school will take place tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock instead of this morning as was first announced. An interesting programme has been prepared for the occasion consisting of songs and recitations. There will be the usual presentation of the class gift after which the graduating class school, which is an unsually large one this year, will be given their certificates of promotion to the High School.

The commencement exercises will come to a close tomorrow evening when the commencement exercises of the High School will take place at the Academy of Music. The address will be made by J. W. Bailey, Esq., of Raleigh, after which the seniors will be given their diplomas.

Yesterday morning at 10 o'clock the girls' recitation contest of the Union School was given. There were a number of contestants and it was hard for the judges tc make their selection of the prize winners, but they finally decided that the first prize should go to Lillie May Gaylor and the second prize to Katherine Haar. The judges were Misses Florence Wessell and Elizabeth LeGwin.

Those taking part in the contest and the subject of their recitations were as follows:

The Coral Grove.....Pearl Rich.
Orphant Annie. Lillie May Gaylor.
Platonic .....Minnie Sandlin.
Raggedy Man.....Mary Lee McGraw.

After the recitations the boys gave a drill which was much enjoyed by all present.

Yesterday was visitation day at the Peabody and the Williston colored schools. The exhibits of work by the pupils, especially the sewing exhibits, were all highly creditable and showed that the students of these schools are receiving excellent training. The closing exercises of the Peabody school will take place this morning at 11 o'clock. The closing exercises of the Williston school were given last week in the Academy of Music.

WEEKLY SESSION OF COUNCIL

Hilton Road Improvement Considered. Tree and Park Commission Asks Appropriation.

Notwithstanding the fact that the health budget controversy overshadowed everything else at the weekly meeting of City Council yesterday morning, a number of matters of some importance were transacted, chief among which was the introduction of a resolution providing for the improvement of Fourth street, north from Fourth street bridge to the city limits. The resolution will come up for passage at the next meeting.

Save for Councilman Loughlin, all members were present yesterday, as well as the city clerk and treasurer, the city attorney, Chief of Police Williams, Fire Chief Schnibben, and several citizens.

Mr. R. A. Parsley appeared before Council relative to the Fourth street improvements, presenting a petition from Messrs. B. F. Keith, R. A. Parsley and W. L. Parsley giving the city the use of their property for a street. The improvements considered will cost in the neighborhood of $15,000, and the Messrs. Parsley have agreed to lend the city the money, to be paid back in annual installments of $5,000.

The resolution calls for a roadway 30 feet wide, and Councilmen Chadwick and Wood protested against this, declaring that they thought a 20-foot roadway wide enough. Mr. Parsley replied that the street car service would probably be extended out the street within a year or so, and that in view of this he did not think a 20-foot street would be wide enough. Councilmen Merritt and Jones favored a 30-foot roadway, and Mayor Moore also stated that if there was a likelihood of the street cars being run out this street in the next year or so, he thought it best to make the street 30 feet wide.

The question will come up for a vote at the next regular meeting.

Mayor Moore called the attention of Council to a communication from the Tree and Park Commission asking that an appropriation of $1,000 be made for a tree surgeon to have charge of the trees and parks of the city. The mayor stated that the communication had been misplaced on his desk, and had escaped his attention at the time the budget was being considered. Council decided to make the appropriation.

Councilman Merritt notified the body that he had been asked by business men on Water street to re-lay the old Belgian block pavement and asked to be allowed to do this. Council was agreeable to the improvement, and the city clerk was requested to notify the Atlantic Coast Line of the improvement, so that it might make any repairs necessary to its tracks on that street.

Councilman Jones did not bring up his resolution providing that a stenographer be authorized to take down the proceedings of Council as a safeguard against incorrect press reports of the meetings, stating that he desired to wait until a full meeting of the board. He said that practically all members of Council had suggested action similar to that proposed by him.

A mass of minor matters also came up for attention.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS

—Mr. J. F. Brown, of the firm of Brown & Sellars, at Kerr, was a business visitor in the city yesterday.

—Mr. F. B. Gault, of Lake Waccamaw, was a business visitor in the city yesterday.

THEATRICAL

Four big reels, jammed to the top of the rims with the greatest moving pictures, will be presented by the popular Grand today, and the price will be back to 5 cents admission afternoon and night. The first of the great film triumphs on today is the Vitagraph's big two-part dramatic sensation, "He Never Knew." It is a story with a heart throb all the way through and it's a daisy. It is a story partly of the stage and partly of society life and is most fascinating. Not only is it a star film, but a bunch of star players will appear, including popular Anita Stewart, who will portray the difficult role of "Madame Renee," the actress, and the noted young romantic actor, James Morrison, who will be seen in the part of "Earle Castro."

Backing up this simply superb film creation will be Edison's "The Resurrection of Caleb Worth." It is a story of a bank. The directors think new blood is needed and they let old Caleb, who has headed the institution for years, go, but, in the end old Caleb has to save the bank from going to the wall. It is just such a story as every one likes, and the well known actor, William West, will appear in the role of "Caleb Worth."

Selig is also to the front today with a thrilling dramatic in "A Romance of the Forest Reserve," and a notable cast appears in this film. It is a tale of the daring forest rangers, and it has a powerful punch to it.

Big Bijou Bill.

The Bijou's all-star bill for today is headed by one of the biggest farce pictures that has ever been produced by the Victor Feature Players, entitled "Disenchantment," depicting the story of the lionization of a tenor singer of renown by the population of the town. Miss Florence Lawrence, as Flo, carries off the distinct honors of the play. She, along with the balance, is enchanted with a voice—that of the tenor, much to the chagrin of her sweetheart Harry. Coals are heaped upon the fire when Harry calls on Flo and sees the tenor's photographs in every corner of the parlor. His annoyance is added to when Flo tells him that she has received invitations for herself and her friend Betty, to attend a private recital of the tenor, and that Harry and his friend Charles, must escort Betty and herself to the affair. The night of the recital brings on some of the most farcical conditions of affairs that have ever been pictured for the movies, and lead through one of the most enjoyable pictures you have seen in some time.

"The Animated Weekly" for this week is one of the most interesting in some time. "Scenes on the Border," "The Kentucky Derby," "Picturesque May Festival," "Shriners in Atlanta," "Oil Tanks Afire," "Confederate Reunion at Jacksonville," and "New York's Finest," are among the subjects shown, supplemented by the usual number of side-splitting cartoons by Hy Mayer, the world's most famous cartoonist.

A big Keystone comedy will end the day's programme, and will be found really as good as anything else on the bill.

Proper Thing Now Is to Peel Off Soiled Skin

Those who abhor sticky, greasy, shiny, streaked complexions should religiously avoid creams powders and rouges during the heated days. There's no need for them, anyway, since the virtues of mercolized wax have become known. No amount of perspiration will produce any evidence that you've been using the wax. As it is applied at bedtime and washed off in the morning, the complexion never looks like a make-up. Mercolized wax gradually takes off a bad complexion, instead of adding anything to make it worse. It has none of the disadvantages of cosmetics and accomplishes much more in keeping the complexion beautifully white, satiny and youthful. Just get an ounce of it at your druggist's and see what a few days' treatment will do. Use like cold cream.

Another effective summer treatment—best tending to cause wrinkles and flabbiness—is a skin tightener made by dissolving 1 oz. powdered saxolite in ½ pt. witch hazel. Its use (as a face bath) leaves no trace.

The Day of Fake Advertising is Passing

As a matter of self-protection, as well as protection of the public, we are downright glad to see the dawn of honest advertising.

The store that has honest merchandise at right prices need not hesitate to tell the truth.

For Example, we never had the least difficulty in advertising Stein-Bloch Smart Clothes for men. They contain so much that is superaltively good that the plain truth about them is the simplest kind of a story.

But after all they tell their own story better than cold type can tell it. If you, Mr. Man, are not familiar with that story and the clothes that tell it, don't you wait another day to hear it.

Incidentally, the Spring and Summer showing of Stein-Bloch Smart Clothes is ready. To be found here exclusively.

FURTHER HEAVY RELEASING

In Cotton Market and Prices Showed Reaction of Over $1.50 Per Bale—Barely Steady.

New York, June 3.—There was heavy further realizing in the cotton market and prices showed reactions of over $1.50 per bale as compared with the high level of last Monday with the close barely steady at a net loss of 6 to 15 points for the day.

The opening was steady at a decline of 5 to 8 points under overnight selling orders, relatively easy Liverpool cables and reports of improving weather conditions in the South. There was a good deal of cotton offering, but it was well taken around the initial figures and prices firmed up toward midday on the forecast for showers in the Southwest, and private reports that it was raining at two or three points in Texas.

There was doubtless covering of shorts, re-buying by sold-out longs and some fresh demand from parties who had been waiting for a set-back on which to enter the market during the early trading, as a great deal of cotton was taken out of the ring before the end of the first hour, but the market became comparaticely quiet on the midday advance and after selling 2 or 3 points net higher, prices again eased off.

Reports of light rains or showers in parts of Georgia may have prompted part of the realizing which sent prices to the lowest level of the day in the late trading. The official forecast was for showers in Georgia, but for clear weather elsewhere in the Eastern belt, which is still suffering from lack of moisture, and private crop advices from the South continued generally bullish.

A prominent traveling expert sent in an unfavorable review of Texas crop conditions, but pointed out that it was too early to consider the crop a failure and that favorable weather the rest of the season might cause a material improvement.

Private cables attributed the decline in Liverpool was credited with selling new months here against purchases in the English market. There was a relatively good demand for old crop deliveries on the early decline and these positions were comparatively steady during the entire day. Spot houses bought July and August, but local reactionists claimed that they could see no sign of spinners buying new crops.

SLOW PROGRESS IN STOCKS

Trading Was in Small Volume and Show of Reviving Life in Market Was Missing.

New York, June 3.—Slow progress upward was made today in the stock market. Trading was in small volume and the signs of reviving life yesterday failed to show themselves. The significant feature was cessation of professional pressure and outside liquidation. The market, while irregular, had a good undertone and after moving back and forth within a narrow range developed signs of real strength toward the close. Fluctuations in the main were measured in fractions, but in a considerable number of cases substantial gains were recorded at the close.

New Haven and Lehigh Valley made a better showing today. New Haven ended the day with an advance of nearly two points. Atchison exhibited strength and American Telephone Consolidated Gas and Wells Fargo scored good gains.

Steel, Amalgamated and Union Pacific were bought freely for foreign account, about 10,000 shares being taken.

Speculative sentiment was cheered by favoring crop forecasts from private sources, as well as by the improved showing of the railroad statement in April. Optimistic reports recently from the steel trade were supported by the weekly reviews of trade authorities. Pig iron production in May, however, was placed at more than 8,000 tons a day less than in April.

Most of the speculative bonds were in good demand, but in a few cases heaviness developed, which gave the market a ragged appearance. Total sales, par value, $2,700,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

RATE ASSOCIATION IN SESSION IN RALEIGH

cratic convention here tomorrow and urge that a separate railroad commission be created by the State.

W. L. Gilbert, of Statesville, offered a resolution that was adopted providing that it be declared the sense of the association that the freight rates prescribed in the Justice intra-State rate act are just and reasonable. President Tate was directed to appoint a special committee to appear before the special Intra-State Rate Commission July 7th, in Asheville, in the interest of the approval of the Justice intra-State freight rates.

General Plan of Organization.

J. C. Forrester, of Greensboro, offered a general plan of re-organization providing for service and non-service membership on basis of different membership fees, and this was referred to the officers, directors and the special committee to be named, these to prepare and adopt a revised plan of organization at a meeting to be held in Asheville July 7th in connection with the sessions of the rate commission. The President was authorized to pay the expenses of the officers and directors in attending this Asheville meeting out of the general funds of the association, there being $800 in hand.

In the preliminary discussion as to whether the association should be continued at all or not, President Tate said he wrote great numbers of letters and appealed in every way to get a large attendance for this meeting and had failed. The trouble was that the people seemed to be too well satisfied with what has already been accomplished. He insisted that there will have to be constant agitation to keep the association alive.

methods and now were not influenced so much by one or two men—like J. P. Morgan and former President Mellen—as they formerly were. He said the "directors now direct," and had learned "a great many things." He added that President Elliott was more deliberate than Mr. Mellen and did not "rush them off their feet."

Mr. Skinner said he believed "if things had been allowed to go on and the New Haven and its officials had not been subjected to inimical inquiries and legislation "the property would have pulled out all right, perhaps, in five years." He asserted that Mr. Mellen could have retained the presidency of the road had he so desired, as he had a majority of the directors with him. Mr. Skinner will resume his testimony tomorrow. He will be followed by Laurence Minot, of Boston, a New Haven director during a part of Mr. Mellen's administration.

COMPLICATION IN TOLLS SITUATION

Committee Favorably Reports Resolution to Arbitrate.

Washington, June 3.—Just when a vote on the Panama Canal tolls exemption repeal bill seemed certain to come within a few days, the Senate Foreign Relations committee today surprised the Senate and complicated the situation by reporting favorably a resolution designed to lead to the submission of the dispute with Great Britain to arbitration by an international tribunal.

There was no discussion of the resolution, but it will be taken up before a vote is reached on the repeal bill itself and its appearance before the Senate undoubtedly will lead to further debate.

So far as administration leaders know, President Wilson opposes arbitration unless the repeal bill previously is passed and no word had come to the Capitol tonight that he had changed his position.

Many Senators believe without the President's approval no arbitration proposal can receive a majority. During the debate today Senator Vardaman, Democrat, of Mississippi, a vigorous opponent of repeal, criticised the President's position and attacked Senator Root, one of the leaders of the opposite side.

MADE SAVAGE ATTACK ON MAN WITH HATCHET

can allow us to be killed. Others will arise to take our places. I have pointed in the war."

One of the pictures destroyed was "Love Wounded," a priceless engraving by Bartolezzi.

Suffragists again turned their attention to Dr. Francis Edward Forward, medical officer of Holloway jail. The women armed with horse whips sprang upon him as he left the prison this morning and had punished him severely when a policeman came to his rescue and arrested his assailants.

The women declared that their action was a protest against "the forcible feeding for which this beast is responsible."

Dr. Forward refused to charge the women with assault, but the police detained them on a charge of disorderly conduct. Last October Dr. Forward was attacked in a similar manner.

An arson squad of suffragists early today burned a large cricket pavilion at Earlsfield, southwest of London. Another arson squad set fire to a country residence near Belfast, but the blaze was extinguished with small damage.

a trifle faster the advantage of several weeks of tuning up by the Resolute showed clearly. Until the Vanitie has further opportunity for a thorough tuning up and the yachts have met in a strong wind, close followers of yacht-racing will be loath to express an opinion.

Considering the handicaps, the result of today's struggle would appear to indicate that the pair are fairly, evenly matched. Captain Adams, of the Resolute, gained a decided advantage in the jockeying at the start, and won honors by berthing his yacht in a fine position to weather of Vanitie.

This advantage he held throughout the race, although the Cochran sloop was overhauling the Resolute rapidly at the finish.

The first leg was a beat to windward and a run on the return. The course had to be covered twice.

The Resolute crossed the starting line twelve seconds ahead, the official time being:

Resolute—12:16:30.
Vanitie—12:16:42.

The Resolute appeared at far better advantage in the heavier blow than in the light winds of Tuesday.. The flag officers' sloop took every advantage of her weather position, and drew rapidly ahead and to windward.

BEFORE THE RECORDER.

Probable Cause Found in Case Henry Pridgen.

Probable cause was found yesterday by the Recorder in a case against Henry Pridgen, white, charged with forgery. In default of bond in the sum of $100 he went to jail. He will be tried at the next term of Superior Court. L. D. Baker, white, was found guilty of assaulting his wife and fined $25 and the cost. He went to the roads for 20 days in default of payment. Fred Lynch, colored, was sent to the roads for 30 days on a charge of assaulting a female.

W. A. Rivenbark, white, was fined $5 and the costs for firing a pistol in the streets of the city. Lucile Moseley, Rosa Carter, and Lillian Waddel, all colored, were sent to the county farm for 30 days on a charge of vagrancy. A case against Henry Chapman, colored, charged with burglary, was continued until today. He was lodged in jail without bail. Prayer for judgement was continued in a case against Wm. Rising, white, charged with resisiting an officer.

The first case disposed of yesterday was that against Messrs. J. J. Loughlin and T. H. Nelson, charged with the removal of a house at Carolina Beach, an account of which appears in another column. Recorder John J. Furlong presided over this part of the proceedings and then turned the court over to Deputy Recorder George Harriss. It was nearly 3 o'clock when court was adjourned.

TWO HOUSES BURNED.

Considerable Damage Caused by Fire on Dawson Street Yesterday.

Fire caused by a defective flue partially destroyed the house at No. 610 Dawson street, owned and occupied by Annie Simmons, colored, and damaged the furniture considerably, entailing a loss of about $1,000, yesterday afternoon at 5:20 o'clock. A house at No. 608 Dawson street, owned and occupied by Mildred Dudley, colored, was partially destroyed also, the loss being about $400.

This caught from the first house and had it not been for the efficient work of the firemen, who were on the scene promptly after the alarm came in from box 56, would have been burned down.

Sacks at Peck & Holloway.

At the request of Chief of Police Williams, Peck & Holloway, the well known hardware dealers, have put in a supply of sacks to be used in the collection of trash. An ordinance was recently adopted by the City Council making it obligatory upon merchants and others to use sacks instead of boxes as has been the practice. Chief Williams has instructed the patrolmen to enforce the ordinance strictly and in order to avoid any trouble advises all those having trash to dispose of to get sacks at once.

with the health administration. No one had a more sincere interest in the health situation here than he has, he said, and he was acting according to his best judgment in the matter. He was not afraid of the recall, he said, and did not believe that he could be recalled, but that if he was he would step down gladly. In his opinion, the two physicians in the employ of the Health Department were not doing as much work as an one reputable practitioner does.

The clerk was instructed to transmit a copy of the resolution to the Citizens' Committee, in session at the Chamber of Commerce.

Committee's Answer to Council.

The resolution adopted at the meeting of the Citizens' Committee was offered by Mr. M. W. Jacobi, after a motion by Mr. C. C. Covington to table Council's resolution, had been withdrawn. It is as follows:

"Resolved—That we feel that the Board of Health is competent and has thoroughly investigated the needs for protecting the health of the citizens of New Hanover county, and that the amount asked for by them is needed, and should be granted.

"Therefore, we are not willing to arbitrate this case, and respectfully decline your proposition, but must insist that the amount asked for by the Board of Health be granted and incorporated in the budget."

The resolution was adopted, after an extended discussion, in which the sentiment of the committee was found to be practically unanimously against any proposed arbitration. The committee took this stand on the principle that there was nothing in the situation calling for arbitration, and that, under its instructions from the mass meeting it had no right to accede to a proposal of arbitration.

The speeches made at the meeting were at times spirited, many of the members declaring that the majority faction of Council had forfeited any right to expect conciliatory methods when they refused to attend the mass meeting Monday night, after courteous invitations had been extended them.

Mr. M. F. H. Gouverneur wanted to know why it was necessary to go on with the matter, when out of fifteen officials connected with the proposition only two now held out for a reduced budget. "If you'll pardon the expression, Mr. Chairman," he declared, "I say to h—l with them. Arbitration always means a compromise. We should insist on what these gentlemen—good men, every one of them—have asked for."

Mr. C. C. Covington declared that there was some power back of the obstreperous Councilmen, and that he, for one, wanted to know, what the "nigger in the woodpile" was. He was unalterably opposed, he said, to arbitrating a God-given right and that he thought the committee ought to go before Council and demand all that the Board of Health had asked for.

Others who protested against accepting the proposed arbitration were Messrs. A. M. Shepard, L. T. Moore, B. C. Moore, W. H. Blair, S. A. Matthews, Mr. C. H. Huband and Dr. C. P. Bolles, while Mr. D. J. Fergus was the only member of the committee to favor arbitration. He suggested the appointment of Mr. J. A. Taylor as the committee's representative on the arbitration committee.

Mr. Gouverneur made an effort to speak against the arbitration proposal on the ground that the Council's representative was not agreeable to him, but the chair ruled him out of order.

With the adoption of the resolution, the meeting adjourned, after asking Council for a hearing at 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

MEETING IS POSTPONED.

Committee to Secure Funds for Branch Reserve Bank.

A meeting of the committee recently appointed to secure $1,000 from the business men of the city with which to carry on the campaign for the branch reserve bank was held yesterday morning at 11 o'clock in the Chamber of Commerce. Those present were Messrs.. C. E. Taylor, F. W. Dick, T. E. Cooper, J. L. Sprunt and Col. J. Van B. Metts. After some discussion of the matter it was decided to postpone any formal action on the matter until tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock when another meeting of the committee will be held in the Chamber of Commerce.

The campaign for the bank will be pushed and it is firmly believed by those interested that it can be secured. In order to do this it will require more money and the committee will endeavor to raise the necessary funds within the next few days.

Vudor Porch Shades

Summer Pleasures without Summer Discomforts! Indoors it's sticky and moist. On the porch it's cool—when the Vudors are down.

Why not eat, sleep, live there this summer? Thousands do it. The cool air gives appetite and forces you to dreamless sleep because it bathes the nerves while you sleep. It cures them.

Vudor Porch Shades cost little. They give air but keep out glare. You can look out through Vudors, but not in through them. They last—they keep "that new look," for they're stained, not painted, nor dipped.
